THE 1943 CARMELITE

PRESENTED BY THE
SENIOR CLASS
MOUNT CARMEL
SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL
MOUNT CARMEL, PA.

FOREWORD

IN ORDER that the class of 1942-43 may always have with them the memories of their high school days, the Staff of "The CARMELITE" presents this book as a brief review of their life at Mt. Carmel Senior High School during the past year.

"The CARMELITE," this year, is of far more significance than previous years. We have experienced some of the far-reaching effects of war. We have had to curtail various sections of our book because of shortage of necessary materials and limited time. Many of our boys have already entered some branch of the armed forces; after graduation more of the boys and many girls will assume the burden of this great conflict.

It is the hope of the staff that this book will serve as an incentive in future endeavors to the members of the class, wherever they may be, and whatever they may do. We offer this book as another proof of a great democracy. In it can be found concrete examples of a free country and a free people. Take this book with you on your journey through life as it represents one of the freedoms for which we are fighting.

DEDICATION

MISS EDNA M. ROWE

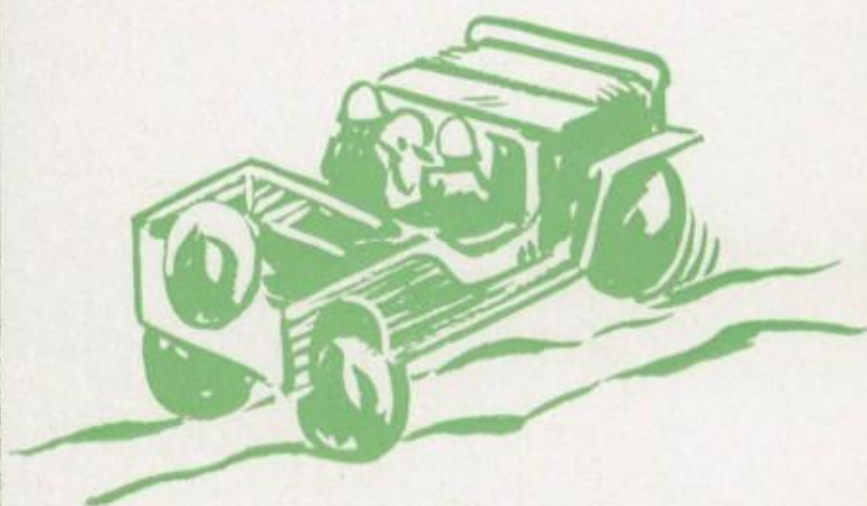

MR. GEORGE R. CASARI

WITH grateful appreciation and heartfelt thanks, the Class of 1943 dedicate this issue of "The CARMELITE" to their advisers, Miss Edna M. Rowe and Mr. George R. Casari, for their unfailing devotion and guidance during the past three years.

SONG OF THE CLASS OF 1943

(Words by Charles Muncatchy)

Tune: Cornell Theme Song

Now the time has come for part-ing,
And we bid a-dieu,
As we march from out these port-als
Start-ing life a-new.
Of our teach-ers we'll re-member
Last-ing friends they are.
So we'll start our jour-ney forward,
Into a world un-heard.

Out in-to this world we'll wan-der,
Some to for-eign soil.
Still we'll al-ways keep our mem-ries,
As through life we toil.
If we go to fight for Free-dom
We will soon re-turn.
And the class of Forty-three
Will, fight for Lib-er-ty.
